Hi Paul. its Sean following up from Ameriplan. I'm assuming you got the info I sent you do you have any immediate questions? Like I said before you can either pay for this for your employees, or I'd again love to come in and talk to them. If we do that, I could set up in the break room, cafeteria, or if you can get everyone together at one I can give a presentation. There is a 20 activation fee, anda good faith gesture (and less expensive than paying monthly) would be for you to reimburse this 20 on their next paycheck.

Now what works for you, sponsoring the fees or havig me come in?
